Connecticut sends Judge Parker good news.

What do election bets amount to? There's many a cup slipped to the lip while an election bet is being made.

Just about the time that General Corbin tried to rule Cupid out of the army he made Private Smith colorblind and he took to himself a negro wife—up in New Jersey.

The New York World says Ludwig Dammon of that city has been sued for a divorce by his wife who alleges that he wrote love letters to another woman. The count will no doubt give the Dammon woman a divorce.

The Republic of Panama claims that the Roosevelt administration is exercising more control over the canal zone than the treaty stipulations warrant. Panama had better not get too gay. Roosevelt may stand by and let the canal zone secede and leave Panama on the outside.

The Republicans are mightily alarmed about Wisconsin, which Senator Spooner, of that State, says is by no means safe for the G. O. P. After desperate efforts to get the Populists to put up an electoral ticket, that has been done with the hope that it will help the Republican chances.

The news comes from Washington that President Roosevelt is arranging to go West, soon after the election, to hunt big game. He can stay right in Washington and hunt big game with the half million dollars which Congress appropriated to protect the people from the trusts.

Dispatches from Washington intimate that there is already a scandal in Roosevelt's canal commission, besides the friction with the Republic of Panama. This is so Republican like. The President has ordered Secretary of War Taft to Panama to straighten out matters, but it is our opinion that it will require the election of Parker to get things straight without dirty work.

The dispatches say that Indiana is aflame with Democratic enthusiasm. Col. Bryan has finished his ten-days' speech-making in Indiana and the dispatches state that every day brings additional news of Mr. Bryan's success with the old free-silver element. Thousands of Democrats and Silver Republicans who followed him in 1896 and 1900, but who were doubtful as to what to do in this campaign, have been swung into line.

At Rutland, Vt, on Wednesday, fourteen pretty young ladies inaugurated a new plan for raising money for missionary work. They acted as conductors and were allowed by the street railway company to retain all they took in over the average day's receipts. One citizen gave $500 for riding a few yards, and there were many similar donations in smaller amounts. Several thousand dollars were cleared. How many ways have women got anyhow to make man pay the freight?

LOCAL DOTS.

— Rev. A. D. McClure, D. D., expects to preach at Pearsall's school house in East Wilmington Sabbath afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

— There was no Mayor's court yesterday and not a single arrest during the previous 24 hours—an extraordinary record for the Fall season.

— If any of our readers can give us the address of parties dealing in rare coins we will be glad to hear from them. The information is desired for a subscriber.

— An attractive display of Fall and Winter clothing and gents' furnishing may be seen in the show windows of Messrs. J. M. Solky & Co., in the Masonic Temple building.

— There will be no service in St. Andrew's church Sabbath morning. The Sabbath school will meet at 3:30 P. M. The pastor will preach at 8 P. M. All are invited to these services.

—The Raleigh News and Observer of yesterday says: "The dispensary sales amounted to $2,135 yesterday. It was a dry day." The figures seem to contradict the latter statement as to the moisture in the atmosphere.

— The grocery store of Fennell & Hunt, corner of Front and Grace streets, was entered Thursday night by robbers. The cash drawer was opened and some change stolen. A quantity of goods were stolen from the stock also.

— Fayetteville Observer: "The latest news received here about the condition of Mr. Stuart Pemberton, who was run over by an automobile on the St. Louis Exposition grounds Wednesday, is that the first reports were greatly exaggerated, and that he was only slightly injured. He is expected home Sunday or Monday."

THE PRODUCTION DISAPPOINTING.

Wilmington Audience Failed to Enthuse Over Big Comic Opera Success.

The production of "Miss Bob White" at the Academy last night was mildly disappointing. The public had been led by their general knowledge of the piece to expect too much. The "millionaire tramps" in the comedy vein were good and the singing was above the average but there was little else in the production to commend itself to the "standing-room-only" house which witnessed it. Comedy and music may be all that is required for a successful comic opera but last night there appeared a lack of consistency in the combination or something else that did not quite bring the production up to the standard expected.

Miss Gertrude Herring, a former Wilmington young lady, appeared as one of the leaders in the chorus, and was shown several little marks of appreciation by the audience.

Patrons of the Academy are now looking forward to two of the big engagements of the season, which will be seen next week—"Dolly Varden," Tuesday evening, and "Babes in Toyland" Thursday evening.

THE SUPERIOR COURT

Docket of Criminal Cases for Present Term Cleared Yesterday Afternoon.

THE P. W. YOUNG CASES.

Judge Moore Will Render His Decision First Thing This Morning—Mortie L. Creech vs. Wilmington Cotton Mills Begins To-day.

With the possible exception of a few odds and ends and the passage of judgment in the P. W. Young cases, the criminal docket in the Superior Court was completed upon adjournment for the day at 6:30 o'clock yesterday evening. Judge Moore will this morning, first thing, render his decision as to the contempt rule against Young and will then pass judgment upon the defendant in the case in which he was convicted of assault and battery. Judge Moore took the papers in the case and the authorities cited by counsel to his room last night and said that he would dispose of the matter upon the opening of court at 9:30 o'clock. Should the decision in either case be unfavorable to the defendant, it is reasonably certain that an appeal will be taken to the Superior Court.

The first case on the civil docket for trial to-day is that of Mortie L. Creech vs the Wilmington Cotton Mills, in which the plaintiff sues for $10,000 damages, alleged to have been sustained in permanent injuries received a year or two ago by having her clothing caught in some machinery, and by being thrown violently to the floor. The case was set for yesterday but in order that it might not lose its place on the calendar, according to the rule of the bar by which cases not reached on the day set are continued until next term, it was called and the court agreed to begin on it first thing to-day. In order that the case might not lose its place on the calendar, Herbert McClammy, Esq., agreed to a verdict of guilty in a criminal matter and, by agreement, appealed to the Supreme Court. This action was resisted by ex-Judge E. K. Bryan and City Attorney Bellamy, of counsel in the Graham vs. City of Wilmington case, which they hoped to reach, but Mr. McClammy said his submission in the criminal case was for the sole purpose of saving the Creech suit and unless it were reached he would go into a trial of the criminal action and the Graham Murray case, which is set for to-day, would not be reached anyway. Judge Moore ruled with Mr. McClammy, saying that while he did not care to violate the spirit of the rule of the bar, he thought it due the public service to save a day's trial of a matter that would otherwise be disposed of in a few minutes. The criminal case was that of Jas. Jackson, colored, charged with violation of the city ordinance in failing to get license to retail liquor and the same technical points as to the city's right to impose a fine other than that conforming to the State law, was raised. Had the case been gone into, it would probably have required all of to-day for trial and an appeal would have been taken to the Supreme Court anyway. A jury was empanelled and by admission of defendant's counsel and instructions of the court, a verdict of guilty was returned for the purposes of appeal. The same fine was imposed as that named by the Mayor, from whom the case was appealed. The object of the appeal is to decide once for all the right of the Mayor to fine in such cases under a city ordinance, defendant's attorneys claiming that such power must be expressly conferred in the charter of the city.

Hon. John D. Bellamy and Herbert McClammy, Esq., appear as counsel for the plaintiff in the Creech suit, while Messrs. Iredell Meares, Cameron F. MacRae and Empie & Empie appear for the cotton mills. The case was tried about a year ago and a verdict of $900 was awarded the plaintiff, but an appeal was taken to the Supreme Court and a new trial was given. It is expected that all of the day and perhaps a part of to-morrow will be required to complete the hearing. On Monday the Penny damage suit is set for trial and the attorneys hope to reach that in any event.

Upon the convening of court yesterday morning the sheriff returned 13 of the 18 talesmen ordered summoned for the day. Jno. H. Hewett and J. H. Strauss were excused by the court.

The case of Walter Z. Zimmerman, colored, charged with selling liquor without license at Fourth and Taylor streets, was resumed. A number of colored men testified they clubbed together, bought the liquor on Saturday night, left it in Zimmerman's shop and dispensed it among themselves on the Sunday following. Zimmerman also proved a good character. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

Civil suit of Mary Bonham vs. F. G. Punke was continued for the plaintiff.

Case of Archie Marine with reference to costs, was continued under former order.

Clarence Davis, the negro who secreted himself a few nights ago in a warehouse of the Armour Packing Co. and who was pulled from his hiding by a clerk in the store, as the place was about to be closed, submitted to larceny and was given four months on the roads.

Lena McFarland, the colored woman who smashed another over the head with an earthen vessel one night this week, pleaded guilty and was let off with the costs.

"Son" Herring, colored, who had previously figured in court this week and was acquitted of larceny, submitted to carrying concealed weapons and was sentenced to three months in jail to be hired out to pay costs.

Fred Thomas Fillyaw, colored, pleaded guilty to resisting Constable Savage a few days ago, and was given two months on the roads.

Mamie Garfield, the negro woman who got drunk in "Dross Neck" Friday night and wielded a "razzer" with such powerful effect upon three other women, pleaded guilty and was given six months in jail to be hired out by the Commissioners.

Ralph Kennedy was granted a divorce from his wife, Mabel Kennedy.

In the civil suits of Willard & Giles vs. the Hall Tie & Lumber Co., and Eccleston Lumber Co. and Geo. H. Howell, assignee, vs. the Hall Tie & Lumber Co., an order was made upon motion of ex-Judge E. K. Bryan, attorney for Bartlett Rogers, Jr., trustee in bankruptcy of the defendant company, dissolving the attachment of plaintiffs and turning the property over to the trustee.

Jackson Brown, colored, convicted of an assault with a deadly weapon at the last term of court, was arraigned upon a charge of perjury, alleged to have been committed in the former trial. The jury took the case late in the afternoon, came back into court twice for instructions and finally returned a verdict of not guilty after adjournment of the court for the day.

The most interesting case yesterday was that of Charles Henry Wesley Wilson, as he called himself, charged with the larceny of a small amount of money from the leading lady in "For Her Children's Sake," a theatrical company which came here about ten days ago. The circumstances surrounding the remarkable theft of the colored boy are well known to readers of this paper. They boy is ten years old, a street waif and is known as "Happy Hooligan." His case attracted the attention of members of the bar when it was called, and Judge Moore appointed J. O. Carr, Esq., to defend the precocious youngster. H. L. Stevens, Esq., for the novelty of the situation, relieved Solicitor Duffy of the prosecution. The question of whether the boy had reached years of discretion and the technical point of the ownership of the money were raised. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty with the recommendation that the boy be bound out to some responsible person. Judge Moore ordered the boy back to jail, saying he hoped to be able to carry out the spirit of the jury's recommendation before the term is over.

Before court adjourned the case of Jos. Thomas, the negro who shot Dan Smith and Caleb Howe at Carolina Beach Labor Day, was called up for judgment, the defendant having submitted at the last term. Marsden Bellamy, Esq., appeared for Thomas and after the testimony of several witnesses had been heard, Judge Moore imposed a fine of $50 and costs in the case of carrying concealed weapons and judgment was suspended on payment of costs in the two other cases for an assault with a deadly weapon.

His Little Son Dead.

Mr. L. W. McLaurin, with other members of the family, has the sincere sympathy of a great many friends in the death of his youngest son, George Thomas McLaurin, aged about 12 years. The death occurred at Ivanhoe, N. C., where the boy was visiting relatives. He was an exceptionally clever young fellow and was much liked by all his associates. His death was caused by typhoid fever. The remains will arrive to-night on the A. & Y. train and the funeral will take place to-morrow. The hour to be named later.

SESSIONS AT AN END.

Wilmington Presbytery Completed Its Work at Clarkton Thursday Evening.

STRONG SERMONS HEARD.

Rev. L. G. Vass Made Several Addresses. Spring Term Meets Next at New Hope, Brunswick County—Education and Missions.

The Presbytery of Wilmington met in Fall session at Clarkton, Oct 18th-20th, 1904, with eleven ministers and eleven ruling elders present. Rev. L. G. Vass, missionary to the Congo, as a corresponding member from the Presbytery of Albemarle, was also in attendance.

The opening sermon was preached by Rev. A. D. McClure, D. D., retiring moderator, from I. Peter, v: 4.

There was preaching each day at 11 A. M. and Friday at 8 P. M., by Rev. Messrs. J. M. Wells, Ph. D., on family religion; P. M. B. Currie, for ordination, and R. M. Williams, on personal evangelism. Rev. L. G. Vass made a stirring address Wednesday at 8 P. M. on "Our Mission to the Congo."

The educational work of Presbytery was made prominent. The report of the committee made by Dr. Wells showed the Presbyterian schools at Clarkton, Falson and Kenansville to be in a flourishing condition, with increased attendance and improvements in property. The property of the Clarkton Military Institute is worth about $30,000. The faculty is complete and skilled and the student body excellent.

Rev. J. S. Crowley, pastor of Immanuel church, was elected moderator and Rev. R. M. Mann and Ruling Elder W. J. Boney were elected stated clerks.

Rev. R. M. Williams, agent for the schools and evangelist, made a report of increased interest in all schools and efficiency in their operation. He will give his time to evangelistic work until next Summer.

The causes of Home Missions, Foreign Missions and Education for the Ministry were well presented and arrangements were made for better relations and more liberal support of the Assembly's Home and School at Fredericksburg, Va., and the Synod's orphanage at Barium Springs, N. C.

All the churches are supplied with regular preaching on the Sabbath and several new preaching points are being opened.

Rev. D. P. McGeachy was dismissed to Concord Presbytery and Rev. P. M. P. Currie was ordained to the full work of the ministry.

Rev. L. W. Curtis was received from the Presbytery of Nashville.

Presbytery adopted a resolution of sympathy for one of its ministers, Rev. James Kelly, who is sick.

The report of the trustees of Davidson College showed a large increase in the number of students over any previous year and great improvements in buildings.

Presbytery adjourned to meet at New Hope church, Brunswick county, Tuesday before the full moon in April, 1905.

Rev. R. M. Mann, of Clinton, remained after Presbytery to preach morning and night through Sunday. Rev. Mr. Currie, of Wallace, stopped off to preach at Cronly on Sunday.

The hospitality of the people was very cordial and their kindness to the delegates left nothing undone for their comfort.

First Baptist Revival.

A very large congregation, one that filled the big auditorium of the First Baptist church, heard Dr. Lunsford preach a most excellent sermon last night on "The Sympathy of Jesus." The interest in the revival is growing with each service. There were six additions to the church last night and a number of others manifested an interest in becoming a Christian. There will be a service especially for children at 3:30 this afternoon, though everybody is invited to attend. The ordinance of baptism will be administered at 8 o'clock this evening, immediately before the sermon. Dr. Lunsford will preach a special sermon to men on Sunday night, though the general public is invited to attend. The sermon Sunday morning will be addressed to professed Christians and those inquiring the way. The meeting will be continued throughout next week, with two services daily. There have been eighteen additions to the church during the past week.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

— Mr. A. E. Stevens, of Newbern was here yesterday.

— Among yesterday's arrivals was H. L. Lyon, Esq., of Whiteville.

— Judge Thos. A. McNeill, of Lumberton, spent a few hours in the city yesterday on his way home.

—Among last night's arrivals were Hon. H. L. Godwin, of Dunn; Dr. N. A. Thompson, of Whiteville, and Mr. M. Riddle, Jr. of Savannah.

— The Columbus News says: "Mrs. D. T. McKeithan, of Lumber, S. C., who has for six weeks been in the James Walker Memorial Hospital at Wilmington, came Friday of last week and stopped over with relatives until Monday, when she went on to her home at Lumber."

— H. L. Stevens, Esq., was here yesterday from Warsaw to argue a contempt case before Judge Moore, but owing to the fact that the court was so busily engaged in an effort to clear the criminal docket, the matter was continued until next week. The alleged contempt grows out of a controversy over some land in Duplin or Pender and is of no interest save to the parties to the suit.

Johnson" will this morning resume her run on Black river, going as far as Clear Run if the depth of the water will permit. RUNNING A BLUFF.

The STAR a few days ago advised the friends of Judge Parker not to let their backbones wabble on account of the over-confidence, extravagant claims, and big bluff which the Republicans are putting up in the closing days of the campaign. Of course, if Judge Parker should be defeated for the Presidency and his defeat were clearly foreshadowed now, that would not prevent North Carolina from going overwhelmingly for him. Every North Carolinian interested in the preservation of his State and moved by a desire to protest against the negro record of Roosevelt and the reckless and dangerous policy of his administration, will see that they are registered and will vote on the 8th of November. Whatever may be the result, North Carolina will show, in no uncertain way, how she stands upon the momentous question of constitutional government and upon the vital issues involved in this splendid fight of the Democracy.

We again remind you to keep a stiff backbone till the vote is counted all over the United States. The Democratic managers in New York and Washington are not phased by the trumpeting of the G. O. P. elephant, but are sending out the most cheering reports as to the outlook. The Republicans are taking entirely too much unction to their souls on account of the big majorities for McKinley in 1896 and 1900, when the issues were different and when the Democrats were divided and a large number of Democratic voters supported the Republican nominee. The situation is plainly put in the reliable Baltimore Sun's correspondence [from Washington on Wednesday:

The Republicans are eagerly endeavoring, as they always do, to convince the public in advance of the election that the opposing party is beaten beyond hope of recovery. The Republican claims have a distinctly depressing effect upon a good many Democrats, who, having been defeated so often, bend their backs to the storm as soon as they hear the wind blow, though it be only the hissing of hot air.

The fact is, neither party has yet been able to get a canvass which insures success, and the Republicans, having the advantage of position, make this advantage their basis of claims. They are forcing the band-wagon theory to the limit, believing that the voters who are still silent are simply waiting to get into line with the winner.

As a practical proposition, the chances ought to be in favor of Judge Parker's election. It is fair to assume that the so-called anti-Bryan element of the Democratic party, which was strong enough to secure the nomination of Judge Parker, intends to cast some votes for his election. Those of them who did not vote for Bryan will not have to cast many votes for Parker to render his election certain. Unless this element was acting in bad faith in the effort to capture the Southern delegations to the national convention, the Democratic party should have perfect confidence in the result of the election.

Whereas, at the opening of the campaign Mr. Roosevelt counted for success upon disaffection among the Bryan Democrats, it is felt now that the party can rely upon its old stand-bys, the trusts and tariff-made monopolies. Apparently the chief reason of discouragement among Democrats is that these monopolies are coming more vigorously to the support of the administration than it was at first thought they would.

It is generally conceded now that Judge Parker will get practically all of the Bryan votes in the doubtful States, where Bryan and his friends are working hard for the ticket. The question would seem to turn, therefore, upon the size of the vote cast for Parker by those who declined to vote for Bryan. McKinley's popular plurality over Bryan in 1900 was not quite 852,000 in the whole country. In the States of New Jersey, New York, Connecticut, Indiana and Delaware, where the opposition to Bryan was particularly strong, McKinley getting the independent and gold Democratic vote, McKinley's popular plurality was about 289,000. These figures seem to indicate that Judge Parker does not require a very large vote of his own, independent of the Bryan vote, to insure his election.

Except in the South, where the primaries were influenced by the Eastern sentiment favorable to Judge Parker, the Bryan influence was generally opposed to Parker's nomination. His nomination, therefore, indicated a great strength outside the Bryan influence. Since his nomination it has been manifest that he has powerful support from gold Democrats and independents, and nearly every man who ever talks politics meets daily with Republicans who declare an intention to vote the Democratic ticket this year for the first time in their lives.

In the absence of a reliable canvass in any of the doubtful States, indicating a contrary trend, this plain condition should be sufficient to inspire the Democrats with confidence. It being conceded, as it generally is that Parker will get practically the full Bryan vote, he should be elected if the element which supported him for the nomination supports him as earnestly for election. Neither the element of the party which opposed his nomination nor that which accomplished it can afford to have him defeated through their fault, and if either is suspicious of the other the incentive to "make good" must be strong in order to fix the responsibility for defeat should it come.

Also ponder this from the Washington Post's "Political Gossip" column:

There is probably much hot air in numerous Republican predictions about tremendous majorities this fall from Northern States. Republicans generally concede the return of Gold Democrats to the party. As the campaign progress the allegiance of the Bryan element becomes more apparent. In most States, accordingly, the Democratic vote of 1892 will be largely for Parker. The loss of voters who supported Cleveland from all indications, will hardly exceed 10 per cent. A good many of the so-called independents are with the Democratic ticket. Then granting the Republicans much the best of it with the voters who have come in during the last twelve years, there are small chances for figuring out the enormous majorities now claimed for the dominant party. But instances are known where the actual hopes of the Republicans are far below the figures mentioned by the politicians.

THE WHIRLWIND CAMPAIGN IN WEST VIRGINIA.

The Hon. Henry G. Davis finished his whirlwind campaign in West Virginia on Wednesday night at Wayne where he spoke to a large and enthusiastic crowd. It has been a wonderful campaign for a man nearly 82 years of age. In ten days, travelling in a special, he and his party have covered 1,300 miles, travelling the State 300 miles from east to west three times, and once from north to south. Seventy-eight cities and towns were visited and in many of them there were two separate meetings at night. The party went through 28 counties, more than half of the State and containing about three-fourths of its population. It is estimated that more than 100,000 people heard the speakers, among whom were two United States Senators and there United States Ex-Senators, two of whom have been governors of their States. Mr, Davis spoke several times a day and on one day made thirteen speeches. It is astonishing, and makes the Democratic nominee for Vice President appear as a man of wonderful endurance. He is justified in his confidence that he will carry the State. In his last speech at Wayne he said:

"We have been received everywhere with the most respectful attention, and in most places with much enthusiasm. Wherever we had opportunity to confer with local party leaders we have heard of a number of Republicans who have announced their intention to vote the Democratic ticket. There is no dissatisfaction anywhere, so far as we have learned, among the Democrats, and all those who supported McKinley are now in line again. We believe there will be less fraud at the ballot box than heretofore, as the people seem to be determined to have a fair election. General belief among the party leaders is that the State will go Democratic."

Last night Mr. Davis attended Col. Bryan's big meeting at Parkersburg, W. Va., and will accompany him to-day to Charleston, W. Va., where the Nebraskan will speak to-night.

B. R. King, the well-known policeman, residing at 706 Wooster street, says: "I had terrible pain in my back worked around to my side and in my stomach, so bad at times that it laid me up. I used internal medicines and they did not help me. I put on plasters and rubbed with liniment, and none of them helped me at all. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills recommended I got a box of them at Bellamy's drug store. The next day after commencing to use them I noticed relief. COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—The cotton market opened at an advance of two to three points on moderate covering. Cables were a little better than expected and the early weather reports were rather unfavorable. Storms were reported from the eastern belt and private wires indicate frosts at certain points in Texas, Mississippi and Alabama. This probably caused the early hesitation and brought in some covering by shorts and a little demand through wire houses. But reports from the southern spot markets continued unfavorable and shortly after the opening it became apparent that large spot interests were hammering prices in the local market. The list turned easier and ruled unsettled pretty much all the rest of the session. The close was steady in tone owing to an increased demand from shorts but prices were at practically the lowest a net decline of six to ten points. Sale's were estimated at 250,000 bales.

Dr. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION FOR WEAK WOMEN.

First aid
Paracamph
to the Injured

1,000,000 Bottles Free

to sufferers from any of the many forms of

Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sore Joints, Sore Feet, Sunburn
Eczema-Tetter, Catarrh, Sore Throat, Hay Fever, Insect Stings
Asthma, Throat Trouble, Piles, Itching or Bleeding, Mosquito Bites

Burns, Cuts, Bruises, Old Sores or any disease that begins with Fever, Swelling or Inflammation.

Paracamph will give instant relief and effect a cure or put you on the road to recovery, no matter of how long standing or how severe your case may be. Remember, Paracamph is the "First Aid to the Injured" and is for external application, except in case of Sore Throat, and takes the place of many irritating, and often poisonous, internal remedies which are frequently taken to relieve the troubles enumerated above. Paracamph is a combination of refined camphor, and soothing, healing antiseptic oils and is a prescription endorsed by prominent surgeons and doctors now in hospitals and private practice all over this country; it is a safe and effectual treatment for all forms of Congestion, Soreness, Swelling and Inflammation, and when applied to cuts and burns relieves instantly, heals without leaving a scar and always prevents blood poisoning. It cures in a thoroughly natural way and does not affect the nervous system or upset the stomach, and when applied goes through the pores of the skin directly to the seat of the trouble, stops the pain, relieves the congestion by stimulating the circulation and draws out all Soreness, Fever and Inflammation by inducing sweating.

Paracamph is a preparation for the people, and a bottle or more of it should be in every home. As a family remedy nothing can equal it. Papa may have sore feet, hands or back; mamma may have Neuralgia; the boy cuts, burns or black eyes; the sister toothache or bad complexion, and the baby Fever, Sore Throat or a swelling. In every case Paracamph will do the work we claim, if directions are followed.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Raleigh News and Observer: "Russell spent $225,000 caring for convicts and I spent nearly that much caring for children, but that's as it should be—each caring for his own," is Governor Aycock's happy comparison of the two last State administrations.

— Raleigh News and Observer: "The Democratic party will go down cheerfully in defeat before it will buy a single vote," declares Treasurer Peabody. Political bribery is the chief sin in American politics. Those who will purchase an election will sell to the money power the right to make laws. Success by purchase means rule by interests which tax the many for their benefit.

— Charlotte Chronicle: Recollect the first street cars Charlotte had? Cigar boxes on trucks that would always jump the track at the curve on Independence Square. They were sold to Rock Hill, S. C., and one or two that survive are still being drawn there by mule power, on very uncertain schedules. A lot of patch work has been resorted to, in the meantime, to hold the cars together. A recent issue of the Rock Hill Record gives a cut of one of these street cars. And hard by is a million dollar electric plant that is making things hum in Charlotte, but evidently not in Rock Hill.

— Raleigh News and Observer: Republican orators object seriously when Democrats confront them with their record. They become particularly incensed when they are reminded that they put one thousand negroes in office in North Carolina when they were in power. They now claim to be the "lily white" party, and declare they are as much in favor of white supremacy as the Democrats. What are the facts? This paper could print forty columns about the Republican candidates in the several counties showing that from John R. Smith down to or up to ex-Rev. Babb the Republican candidates in nearly every county are the same sort of cattle that were elected to office in 1894 and 1896, and in not a few instances they are the very same men.

— A dispatch from Durham on Thursday says: The whiskey recently seized by the police on the raid against blind tigers was this morning seized from the police by the United States government. The second seizure was made by Deputy Collector D. C. Downing, of Raleigh, who at once shipped all of the whiskey to Raleigh. Officer Downing came up here this morning, after taking a look at the large amount of whiskey the police had on hand, made formal demand for it. The mayor instructed Chief Woodall to turn it over to the representative of Uncle Sam. The action of the revenue officer rather relieves the police of a lot of stuff that was more or less of a "white elephant" since the officers had no authority to destroy the whiskey and could not sell it.

— The Salisbury Sun on Wednesday afternoon exposed a scheme which is alleged to have been planned by the Republican leaders of that Congressional district to raise a large sum of money to be used in the campaign with the hope of electing E. Spencer Blackburn over W. C. Newland, the Democratic nominee. The plan is to exact large contributions from the distillers, wholesale and retail whiskey dealers in Salisbury, who in turn are promised favors on the part of Blackburn in the event of his election. While it is known that a large amount of money has been raised, yet the total is not known, but it is said that it will reach several thousand dollars. It is stated that one subscription amounts to $500. The plan, it is learned, has already met with considerable resentment.

— Asheville Citizen: As the congressional campaign draws near to a close it is becoming more and more evident that Judge Ewart's Republican friends made a serious mistake in that they did not call him to one side and give him a quiet hint that he was on the wrong track when he attacked the Brownlow Good Roads bill and assailed the former policies of his own party. Mr. Ewart has been allowed to run loose with the result that he has fared badly in the various joint debates with Mr. Gudger. Reports from the Citizen's correspondents, at various points where the congressional candidates have appeared, indicate that even Judge Ewart's friends are very much disappointed at the poor showing he has made, and some of them, it is said, make no attempt to conceal their chagrin at the foolish blunders which the Republican candidate has allowed himself to make.

— But the crowning glory of the Republican Legislative ticket is Dr. M. W. Parks, their nominee for the Senate, who used to be frequently a candidate for nomination before Democratic County Conventions but could never secure a nomination, whose politics for a number of years has been of the variegated sort. He seems to have been flitted for nomition by the Republicans by a little incident that occurred at January term 1895, of Wayne Superior Court when he was convicted for selling liquor without license by a jury of his countrymen and sentenced to pay a fine of $20 and the cost of the action, and to enter into a bond for $200 not to sell unlawfully for twelve months. At the same time this proposed law maker who was then a practicing physician, in another case, submitted that he was guilty of selling liquor without license and was let off with the costs. In another column will be found a certified copy of the record of the case in which he was convicted and also the bond which he gave.

Testimony of a Minister.

Rev. Jno. S. Cox, of Wake, Ark., writes: "For twelve years I suffered from yellow jaundice. I consulted a number of physicians and tried all sorts of medicines, but got no relief. Then I began the use of Electric Bitters, and feel that I am now cured of a disease that had me in its grasp for twelve years." If you want a reliable medicine for Liver and Kidney trouble, stomach disorder or general debility, get Electric Bitters. It is guaranteed by R. R. BELLAMY, druggist. Only 50c. †

They Can Stop Their Hair Falling Out With Herpicide.

Ladies who have thin hair and whose hair is falling out, can prevent the hair falling out, and thicken the growth, with Newbro's "Herpicide." Besides, Herpicide is one of the most agreeable hair dressings there is. Herpicide kills the dandruff germ that eats the hair off at the root. After the germ is destroyed, the root will shoot up, and the hair grow long as ever. Even a sample will convince any lady that Newbro's Herpicide is an indispensable toilet requisite. It contains no oil or grease, it will not stain or dye. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

The Morning Star

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SATURDAY MORNING, OCT. 22.

GROVER CLEVELAND AT CARNEGIE HALL.

The Former President Addressed a Large Democratic Gathering Last Night in New York—Carlisle a Speaker.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21 —Attracted by the presence of Grover Cleveland thousands of people struggled to gain entrance to Carnegie Hall to-night, where the former president of the United States made his first and only speech of the campaign.

John G. Carlisle, secretary of the treasury under Mr. Cleveland, was also a speaker and shared with Mr. Cleveland the great burst of enthusiasm at the meeting. Every seat in the big auditorium was taken while corridors and aisles held their scores. Still hundreds were unable to gain entrance. This big Democratic rally was under the auspices of the Business Men's Parker and Davis Association, and J. Hampden Robb, president of the organization, presided.

The former president was chairman of the meeting. In his address he said in part:

"There are in my mind to-night some aspects and incidents of this campaign which seem to me so startling and so humiliating that they should arrest the attention of every thoughtful citizen and arouse the anxious solicitude of every patriotic American. In a country like ours, where parties contest for the direction of the government, we must, of course, expect party advocacy and honorable personal ambitions for political honors; but who among those indulging in the farthest retrospect of political campaigns can recall one in which the advantages of present party control have been so palpably and unblushingly used for its perpetuation, or in which the functions belonging to the entire American people have been more insolently forced to do partisan service? When before has it been so distinctly claimed that all the virtues, all the patriotism and all the governing ability of our citizenship are found among the members of one political party; and when before have those of our citizens, not among the chosen, been so boldly considered as aliens in their own land, who should be cast into outer political darkness as unworthy to be entrusted with the power and responsibility of a government established by the people and for the people? When in all our history has a party so presumptuously as now claimed to be the donors of the gifts of God, or when has one so persistently plumed itself upon the creation of all the prosperity that has fallen to our country's lot?

"Never before have our people been so belabored with party deliverances, which, in every line and every word, from platform declarations to the last appeal of party advocacy, are so saturated with conceited and tiresome claims of infallibility, and with superfluous disdain of all political efforts such as are attempted under the banner of Republicanism. Shall this pass current at a time when, at the parting of the ways in our nation's development, we are especially called to patriotic thoughtfulness and careful contemplation of party designs and to a vigilant watch against dangers that beset us? My faith in my countrymen will not permit me to believe this, or to doubt that they will insist upon examining for themselves the accounts of party stewardship.

"The party will be given just credit which, early or late, has endeavored to safeguard the soundness of the nation's currency; but the people will reject as savoring of presumption the insistence that only those belonging to one party organization can claim to be the protectors and defenders of our financial integrity; nor will they forget that the fight was hotly on when many of the leaders of the party now making such an insistence were worse than lukewarm in the cause.

"A party may indulge in self-congratulation when it has effectively defended the people in their daily life from the rapacity of trusts and combinations, which thrive as private enterprise is strangled, and which grow fat as by their control of the cost of living they cause the homes of our land to grow lean, but the people will hardly approve the vociferous pride which claims that a successful attack upon the merger of the stock of certain competing railroads has rescued them from their oppressors. They will not fail to observe that the huge combinations which directly injure them still flourish, and they may also recall how the combination among those implicated in such schemes who once favored a general pursuit was quieted when the seething assurance reaches them that the government did not intend to 'run amuck.' Nor will they probably accept the suggestion that repentance or a change of heart accounts for the manner by which the threats and animosity of many powerful trust magnates have been displaced by their approval and substantial support of the party which seeks to convince the people of its trust-destroying proclivities.

"This item of the account will not be passed over without a reference to the platform statement that 'protection, which guards and develops our industries is a cardinal policy of the Republican party,' nor without noting the declaration of the candidate standing on this platform, that the protective tariff policy ought now to be considered as 'definitely established.' The question will be asked which are American industries that at this time are in need of the shelter of such a tariff as that now in force; and is there never to be a time when American enterprise, American ingenuity and American opportunity, will free our industries from their stage of infamy and permit American aspiration and American self-reliance to cast away the leading strings of a definitely established protective policy? The people know that this policy has given rise to reckless greed and to a worship of gain, menacing patriotic sentiment and our love for high standards of national greatness, and they knew at the best it lays burdens on the consumers of our land.

"With these tendencies and these burdens in mind they will ask the party professing its anxiety to restrain or destroy harmful combinations, why a protective tariff policy should be considered definitely established, when in addition to its other sins contributes to a situation that permits a combination or monopoly to sell abroad articles of our manufacture at lower prices than are exacted from our own citizens at home. They will see the sheer wrongfulness of this condition so clearly and will also firmly believe that in this way they are made to bear tariff burdens in order that they might be discriminated against in favor of foreign consumers, that they will not be satisfied with the assurance that the tariff has nothing to do with trusts. They will consign such an explanation to the limbo of negation, to take its place with the outworn deception that the foreign exporter pays our tariff taxes, and with two other sadly weak pretences—one that the tariff should be reformed only by its friends, and the other that the party which believes that a protective tariff policy ought to be considered as definitely establish loves reciprocity in trade.

"I have ventured to suggest the misleading purpose of the vainglorious claims made by a party organization which seeks a continuance of political control, and to intimate the humiliating estimate of our people's intelligence and patriotic vigilance which the exploitation of these claims involve. It is surely not narrow partisanship which prompts me to entreat my countrymen to hold fast and assure their independence of thought and their courage in judgment; nor do I speak in a tone of partisanship when I beg them to remember that the true greatness and glory of our nation cannot safely rest upon wealth which finds its way to the few at the expense of the many; nor upon such material success as contaminates the purity or blunts the potency of patriotism; nor upon expansion in disregard of our national mission and intent; nor upon achievements that put in question our national morality. Above all, greater than all, guarding and protecting all, and fostering everything that American patriotism should covet, are the service and devotion to country of a sincere people who believe that if their government is preserved in its simplicity, contentment and true prosperity will in bounteous measure visit every corner of our land."

During his speech Mr. Cleveland was loudly applauded, at times being interrupted for some minutes. His statement that there was no necessity for him to apologize for his part in the deeds of the Democracy caused tremendous cheers of approval.

At the conclusion of his speech Mr. Cleveland was greeted with an ovation more spontaneous than at any time during the evening. He then introduced John G. Carlisle in a few words. Mr. Carlisle spoke at length on the Philippine question, and after touching upon the subject of the tariff took up the present claims of the Republican party, and said: "The Republican party, having determined to claim everything now appropriates to itself all the credit for the establishment and maintenance of the gold standard of value in this country, when the truth is that the gold standard was established by the Democratic party before the Republican party was born." Turning to Mr. Cleveland, Mr. Carlisle pointed his hand at him and in stringent tones, shouted: "Here sits the man ——." He was unable to finish the sentence. As if by common impulse the audience cheered for Cleveland, who, taken by surprise, grew red and appeared uneasy, but sat silent during the demonstration. Finally he rose and bowed to the audience which cheered for several minutes longer.

Mr. Carlisle finally continued, saying: "Here sits the man who, by his thorough appreciation of his official duty, by his indomitable will, by his political courage, if I may use that expression, and his devotion to the credit and honor of the government, rescued the gold standard from the dangerous assaults made upon it by Republican legislation and maintained gold payments and the gold standard through four troublesome years, under a storm of vituperation and misrepresentation scarcely ever equaled in this country."

AN ILLINOIS TRAGEDY.

Woman Fatally Injured in an Encounter With a Man and Woman at a Railroad Station in Peoria.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

PEORIA, ILL., Oct. 21.—Mrs. Nellie Thomason, wife of a former prominent real estate dealer in this city, is dead at her home in Lacon, as the result of injuries received in a sensational encounter with Richard and Jennie Higgins, son and daughter of John C. Higgins, a prominent member of the board of supervisors of Peoria county and prominent in Republican politics, on Saturday last. Young Higgins is twenty-four years old and his sister is twenty. They intercepted a letter written to Higgins senior, by Mrs. Thomason, in which she asked the older Higgins to meet her in the depot of the Rock Island railroad in this city, Higgins was at St. Louis and his son opened the letter. The missive asked Higgins to be in the waiting room. When Mrs. Thomason arrived she was confronted by young Higgins and his sister. Mrs. Thomason is said to have attacked Higgins with a hat pin, whereupon Higgins struck her in the face. Later, the woman asked the ticket agent to assist her to the train. He did so and when she was gone, discovered the floor of the waiting room covered with blood. The woman lingered in great agony at her home in Lacon until she died.

Higgins is under arrest on a warrant charging him with murder. The case has created a sensation.

A DESPERATE BATTLE.

Three Men Killed and Three Others Wounded in a Fight Between Detectives and Train Robbers.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ST. LOUIS, MO., Oct. 21.—In a desperate battle to-day between five detectives and three suspects whom they were endeavoring to arrest, two detectives were killed and one seriously injured, and one of the suspects was killed and two others were badly injured.

The fight occurred in the front room of a house on Pine street and the men whom the detectives sought to arrest are suspected of being implicated in a train robbery at Centralia, Ill., a few weeks ago.

The house had been under police surveillance for several days but to-day was the first time that any of the suspects were seen to enter or leave. C. C. Blair, one of the suspects, noting the fact that Detective Shea had his revolver drawn, pulled his own gun and emptied it into the faces of the invaders. He shot six times without a pause. There were no misfires and so close were the suspects and detectives that the powder from the gun in Blair's hand burned their clothes.

McCUE MURDER TRIAL.

Taking of Testimony Will Not Begin Until Monday Morning.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., Oct. 21.—The announcement was made to-day that the third venire ordered by Judge Morris to be drawn from which to complete the panel from which the jury that is to try J. Samuel McCue, charged with the murder of his wife, is to be obtained, was being secured from Fredericksburg and that the veniremen would be here to-morrow morning. Even if a jury is secured to-morrow, the taking of testimony will not begin until Monday morning, as all witnesses were excused yesterday until that time. It is estimated that there are eighty or ninety witnesses to be heard and the time that will be occupied in the trial of the case is problematical.

ARMIES WAIT FOR THE ROADS TO DRY

Japanese and Russians Occupy Close Positions, With Only an Occasional Shot.

BOTH ARE MUCH FATIGUED.

General Russian Attack Planned for Night of October 20th, But a Freshet Prevented It—No End is Visible of the Ghastly Slaughter.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

BERLIN, Oct. 21.—Colonel Gaedke, war correspondent of the Tageblatt, telegraphed to his paper to-day from Mukden as follows:

"Have been unable to telegraph for two days owing to the absence of the censor on the 19th and 20th. Both armies are much fatigued. They occupy positions in close contact. Only an occasional shot breaks the stillness. A general Russian attack appeared to be planned for the night of October 20th, but a freshet in the Shakhe river prevented it. The roads and fields are drying slowly. It rained again the night of the 20th.

"The Russian losses have been frightful. Single regiments have as few as eight hundred men left. The Viborg regiment, of which Emperor William is honorary colonel, had twenty officers and 300 men killed. The feeling is accordingly grave. No end is visible of the ghastly slaughter.

"No skill in leadership can bring victory in the present struggle but only the firmer will of the commander and his troops. The wounds are much more dangerous now than formerly. This is partly due to the use of the old style Japanese rifles, with their flattened, copper-covered bullets, and partly to the thicker clothing of the soldiers. I have private news from Port Arthur that there is abundant ammunition for two months and provisions for a much longer period. Nobody in the fortress thinks it can ever fall. The Chinese report barbarous cruelties on the part of the Japanese. The mere possession of Russian money is dangerous at New Chwang.

"The division of General Kondratvitch captured more Japanese guns yesterday."

Russian Reconnoissance,

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 21.—The general staff to-day received the following dispatch from General Sakahoff, under to-day's date:

"The Russian troops, October 19th, made a reconnoissance in force against the enemy south of the village of Sindiapu. The enemy's outposts were driven back. A Japanese battery which opened fire was silenced and compelled to retire. There was no fighting October 20th. This morning the Russian volunteer sharpshooters, under cover of a fog, closed upon the enemy and brought in another gun and limber which were left, from Poutiloff hill (formerly Lone Tree hill.) The Japanese opened a heavy fire, but on account of the fog the firing was ineffective."

Every Man Hit.

MUKDEN, Oct. 21.—Every man of the two hundred Cossacks, commanded by Captain Tourgenieff, who on Tuesday night reconnoitered the Japanese left southwestward, and who near Sandopu unexpectedly encountered a good sized Japanese force with machine guns, was wounded, and every horse except Captain Tourgenieff's, was hit by the bullets from the Japanese machine guns. Tourgenieff, though mortally wounded, carried off one man behind his saddle, while others managed to creep back to camp. But, as already cabled, not one man was killed on the field. There is the greatest fear on the part of the Russian wounded of falling into the hands of the Japanese, the Russians being convinced that they torture their prisoners.

Artillery Firing.

MUKDEN, Oct. 21, 5:20 A. M.—The Russians at Shakhe station Thursday opened with artillery fire upon what seemed to be a Japanese outpost watching the Russian movements. The guns were then trained upon the village of Liao Yang, a little east of the station. The Japanese replied laguidly.

The weather to day is fine and sunny, with a cold biting wind. There was a severe frost last night.

MUKDEN, October 21, 1 P. M.—Towards evening yesterday the fog lifted and some of the Russian guns at various points opened fire against the Japanese defences but they did not respond, either from scarcity of ammunition or the desire not to reveal the location of their batteries. The weather and the condition of the roads have made extensive operations impossible but the roads are now drying hard which forecasts events in the near future. The war correspondents in the field are kept in the dark and it is difficult to say when and how this dreadful slaughter will end.

TROUBLE ON THE ISTHMUS.

Armed Conflict Reported Between U. S. Marines and Malcontents.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

COLON, Oct. 21.—News reached here this evening that about 200 armed men, who are thought to be malcontent Panamans rather than Colombian soldiers, have been seen in the neighborhood of Culebra, threatening hostilities against the Panama government. As soon as the American authorities of the canal zone became cognizant of the appearance of this force, marines were sent out to ascertain their purpose. It is rumored that a skirmish occurred inland in which several were killed, but there is no confirmation of this report.

A SAFE MAJORITY FOR JUDGE PARKER

Democratic Managers Estimate Votes Enough to Win and Seventeen to Spare.

THE PLAN OF THE CAMPAIGN.

Thorough Organization and a Still Hunt. Independent Vote of the Country is With Democratic Candidate. Harmony Everywhere.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The Brooklyn Eagle, Democratic, in a lengthy review of the political situation, says:

"That Parker will have 256 electoral votes in the electoral college is the real belief of the Democratic managers—a belief which is more than a hope—indeed a conviction. This fact is asserted advisedly, though its publication will excite their anger. Whether wisely or contrary, the Democratic policy throughout the whole campaign has been that of a still hunt. The campaign has been conducted upon the lines which Samuel J. Tilden, nearly thirty years ago, pursued with such astonishing success. Confidence has been withheld from everybody, even with the committee headquarters, while the work of thorough organization has been persistently followed. No claims have been made. There has been, indeed, no attempt to arouse the local workers by promises of success and the blare of brass bands. On the contrary, it has been impressed upon them that the road to success lay through constant work in organization.

"Proceeding upon the assumption that the independent vote of the country was with the Democratic candidate—an assumption in which they were justified by the plain manifestations—they have hammered at the building up of the organization that eight years of continuous defeat had laid on the ground, and have sought the last vote in each minor civil division they believed they were entitled to.

"These policies, though the managers are yet maintaining silence, it is their belief, based on the proofs of returns, have been attended with a success that has more than justified their labors and expenditures.

"The Eagle has been placed in possession of the inner facts upon which the Democratic belief in 256 votes for Parker in the electoral college is based, and here sets them forth, whether it pleases the leaders or not.

"As a matter of fact, more than 256 votes are hoped for. Wisconsin, it is held, is quite likely to cast its electoral vote for Parker, and there are even hopes of the State of Washington. Here is the list counted on by the Democratic managers: New Jersey 12, New York 39, Connecticut 7, Delaware 3, Maryland 8, West Virginia 7, Indiana 15, Montana 3, Colorado 5, Idaho 3, Wyoming 3; total 105.

"One hundred and fifty-one votes of the Southern States are conceded by the Republicans to Parker. Add these to 105 and the result is 256, a majority of 17 for Parker in the college."

The Democratic claim, the Eagle says, is that New Jersey will go Democratic by 17,000. The independent vote in the State, they claim, is known to be 90 per cent. for Parker. As to New York State, the claim is that Parker will carry it by 30,000 plurality and 60,000 for Herrick, although there are enthusiasts who claim the State for Herrick by 100,000.

"With the exception of two counties," the Eagle says, "the State from a Democratic standpoint is in excellent shape. These counties are Onondaga and West Chester. In the one 9,000 plurality for Roosevelt, and in the other 3,500 is conceded. The condition in these counties is due wholly to local Democratic divisions. Elsewhere everything is harmony. The gold Democrats are in line and enthusiastic everywhere else. What there was of silver alienation has passed away and is nowhere troubling. Old leaders like Smith M. Weed in Clinton, and A. Maxwell in Geneses, who have not been active in twelve years, are at work. The drift of independents is markedly toward Parker. The Democrats have the best organization they have had in twelve years."

The secret figures of the stage managers are 85,000 plurality for Roosevelt above the Harlem river and 115,000 plurality for Parker below it, making the plurality of 30,000 for Parker. An examination of the conditions shows that at least this is not rainbow chasing. The gold Democrats are in line to a man, as is also the great preponderance of the independent vote.

The other States in the table claimed for Parker are West Virginia by 7,500, Connecticut by 6,000, Deleware by 1,500, Maryland by 14,000, Indiana by 15,000, Colorado, Montana, Idaho and Wyoming, with 14 electoral votes, are all claimed to be for Parker by small but safe pluralities.

THE WORLD'S COTTON.

Total Visible Supply as Shown by Secretary Hester's Statement.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 21.—Secretary Hester's statement of the world's visible supply of cotton, issued to-day, shows the total visible to be 2,690,892 bales against 2,416,291 last week and 2,112,998 last year. Of this the total of American cotton is 2,308,892 bales against 1,917,391 last week and 1,617,998 last year, and of all other kinds, including Egypt, Brazil, India, etc., 482,000 against 499,000 last week and 495,000 last year.

Of the world's visible supply of cotton there is now afloat and held in Great Britain and continental Europe 1,808,000 bales against 1,106,000 last year; in Egypt 90,000 against 67,000 last year; in India 205,000 against 199,000 last year and in the United States 1,088,000 against 741,000 last year.

JUDGE PARKER RECEIVES NEW JERSEY DELEGATION.

Subject of His Address Administrative Extravagance, Answering Speech Made by Secretary Taft.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ESOPUS, N. Y., Oct. 21.—Judge Parker to day addressed a delegation from Hudson county, New Jersey, on the subject of administrative extravagance, answering a speech made by Secretary of War Taft, in which the secretary called upon the Democrats to give a bill of particulars.

From midnight until after noon today the rain fell in torrents. Streams overflowed, the roads were converted into brooks and made nearly impassable for pedestrians. Nevertheless, the New Jersey delegation formed a procession at the Esopus station of the West Shore railroad and marched to Rosemount.

Reaching Judge Parker's house the delegation surrounded the veranda. Though the rainfall had ceased, the trees were dripping and umbrellas had to be raised. When Judge Parker stepped from the house he was greeted by cheers and hand-clapping. Judge Parker said:

"The expenditures of the government—says the administration—have been managed in a spirit of economy as far removed from waste as from niggardliness. That the expenditures of the government have been free from niggardliness cannot, I think, be successfully denied, hence it should be and is frankly admitted. With the claim that the expenditures have been managed in a spirit of economy, we must take issue. The facts presented in support of the charge of extravagance have not been answered.

Judge Parker gave figures to show that is cost about one hundred and sixty-six millions of dollars more to run the government last year than it did seven years ago. "That statement," he said, "on its face raises the presumption of extravagance and waste, a presumption which requires evidence to overcome.

"None has been presented. By way of indirect answer to the Democratic charge of extravagance, the inquiry has been put by the administration whether we propose to cut off the pensions? We answer, certainly not. And we further assert that the inference suggested by the question is not ingenuous. The amount paid out in pensions has been decreasing every year since 1898. But for the unwarranted order, No. 78, which was fully considered in my letter of acceptance, the amount paid for pensions in the seventh preceding year would not have exceeded the amount paid last year.

"The inquiry is further made by the administration whether we would dare to reduce the cost of the army. We answer that most assuredly we would, and we ask the people to decide between the administration and the Democratic contention on that point. In the year 1897 the War Department cost less than forty-nine millions of dollars, which was about the average cost per year for the preceding 26 years. This last year, a year of peace, the cost of the army was one hundred and fifteen millions of dollars. One of the questions we now ask the people is 'what is the use of spending more than double on the army now than we deemed wise to spend previous to the Spanish war?'

"A large standing army was unnecessary, so our statesmen thought, and so the result proved. It is alike unnecessary unless militarism is to become part of our policy. If we are to play the role of the 'big policeman' in the South American States, requiring each to act according to some administration's conception of decency in industrial and political matters, and further require it to 'keep order' and pay its obligations, according to the standard which may be set by each succeeding administration; and, if in addition, the administration may at pleasure see to it that the States govern themselves well and be prosperous and orderly, according to the criterion which may be set by each administration, we readily admit that we should have an army costing one hundred and fifteen millions of dollars a year. But the people have not as yet approved the administration's policy in dealing with the South American States. They have not yet said by their votes that they are in favor of conferring upon the president the power to interfere with the internal affairs of a South American State at pleasure. The president has not the power to declare a policy equivalent to a threat of armed intervention whenever he shall decide the circumstances justify it. An attempt to exercise such a power would constitute a usurpation prohibited by the constitution of the United States. Hence, it is safe to assume that notwithstanding the letter to Secretary Root which was read at the Cuban anniversary dinner, no administration will dare attempt to establish a universal protectorate over American States or to become responsible for their misdeeds.

"Mr. Olney admirably stated the purpose of the Monroe Doctrine in his address at Harvard College, March 2nd, 1898: 'The vital feature of the Monroe Doctrine is that no European power shall forcibly possess itself of American soil and forcibly control the political fortunes and destinies of its people.'

"That is the natural position and it will be maintained.

"But how South American States shall behave toward each other or whether they shall govern themselves well or be prosperous, is not part of the Monroe doctrine. Until the people amend the constitution so as to permit the execution of the remarkable policy suggested by the letter of Secretary Root, it is perfectly safe to say that we shall have no more need for a larger army than we formerly had.

"In the conduct of the war department alone, therefore, can be saved to the people many millions a year, which the administration not only does not propose to save, but is frank enough to say it. Take another illustration, which I recite as furnishing strong presumptive evidence of extravagance. Seven years ago, under Democratic administration, the civil and miscellaneous expenses of the government amounted to ninety millions of dollars for the year.

"Now what has happened? So tremendously have our expenditures under that head grown during the last seven years that the last fiscal year they amounted to one hundred and eighty six million dollars. More than double the expenditures of 1897.

"I have on another occasion referred to the waste of money in the Philippines, putting the cost to us at six hundred and fifty million dollars, in addition to the twenty million dollars paid to Spain for the opportunity of taking its place in wasting lives and money on the Philippines, asserting not a dollar of it will ever come back to us. The answers so far have betrayed a desire to destroy the effect the statement should have. To that end an issue is attempted to be made as to the amount expended.

"The defenders of this policy of waste say that I put the figures too high. An examination of the speeches of senators and representatives in Congress recently made, including that of Senator Hoar in the Senate of the United States May 23d, 1902, will show that my statement of cost was an under-estimate, as it was intended to be.

A further bill of particulars will be furnished as soon as a Democratic administration has had a chance to examine the books. The result of this extraordinary increase in our expenditures has been to create a deficiency in the annual receipts.

"Now this deficiency in receipts presents a serious situation. Either the expenses must be cut down—and the present administration says in effect that it does not propose to do it, or we must provide some other method of raising the needed money. Either bonds must be issued for that purpose of we must levy other taxes. Such taxes were raised under the war revenue law of 1898, an inconvenient and irritating method of providing revenue which in its operation both annoyed and burdened every class of people.

"Our administrative officials should return once more to those sound principles which formerly were in operation, principles which prompted that portion of President Jackson's inaugural address, which I quote in closing and to which I beg your careful attention." He said:

"The management of the public revenue—the searching operation in all government—is among the most delicate and important trusts in ours and it will of course, demand no inconsiderable share of my official solicitude. Under every aspect in which it can be considered it would appear that advantage must result from the observance of a strict and faithful economy. This I shall aim at more anxiously, both because it will facilitate the extinguishment of the national debt, the unnecessary duration of which is incompatible with real independence and because it will counteract that tendency to public and private profligacy which a profuse expenditure of money by the government is but too apt to engender."
